

Solomon Adjei

Full Stack Web Developer

I am a 28-year-old young man from Ghana who always embarks on life's journey with curiosity and an open heart. I came to Germany in June 2019 to build a career and pursue my dreams. Growing up amongst very different cultures in and outside Ghana, I developed an inner love for humanity and respect for other cultures, traditions and nationalities. I bring a globalised thinking and problem-solving mentality, which is a good tool for my tech career. I like to listen, think entrepreneurially, collaborate with others, have a good sense of humour, am very positive and would like to specialise in backend and data security.
